Boston, Aug. 2 (AP)—Three men, two of them masked and armed with pistols, today robbed the retail Seal Shoe Corporation of a $9,632 pay roll after disarming guards and cowering 36 women employees in the company's office in Boston's South End.

Arnold Watkins, a guard for the Wolf Security Service, said that the men, wearing paper masks over their heads with holes for their eyes, ordered him to lie against a wall. They returned to the main ciuib and waved back women employees with their "guns," anybody move and "you won't get hurt."

While one woman fainted, the others picked up the pay roll money, which had been delivered 15 minutes earlier by the company's security service, and with their comrades drove away in an automobile.

The holdup took place in a second-floor office to which the trio had been taken by an automatic elevator with a guard.

To Succeed Knight

Troy, N. Y., Aug. 2—Jess W. Jkenstine, former physical training officer for Navy R.O.T.C. 12 and V-5 units at R.P.I., will succeed Wesley (Doc) Knight as coach for Rensselaer Polytechnic institute athletic teams. Harry A. Nelson, director of athletics, has announced.

At least six men were seriously wounded in election disturbances on Thursday but an earlier report that two had been killed within the battered, blasted jail apparently was false. The report had been given by telephone from within the building. Twelve others were hurt less seriously. Besieging the jail were supporters of a bi-partisan all-G.I. ticket which challenged the incumbent Democratic organization. Those deputies had taken weapons and ballot boxes into the building for counting of the votes. State guardsmen were due in the State early this morning and the spokesman for the victorious G.I. candidates said "we are willing to wait" the situation in their hands."

"But," added Ralph Duggan, former navy lieutenant commander and a spokesman, "we want everybody to know we are going to be in charge and will dictate the terms to the other side." Shortly after 3 a. m. the deputies, hands in air, marched from the jail against which the beatniks had thrown "homemade bombs" until the men within shouted their surrender. The officers were searched and returned to the jail under G.I. guard. As one, identified by one covered several ballot boxes from the jail. "are elected and will serve as your county officials beginning September 1." He pronounced a statement from George Woods, a member of the county election commission, which said that he conceded the G.I. candidates had been elected."

He added that the G. I. ticket's election watchers "were met with blackjacks and pistols," and that after the ballot boxes had been removed by armed guards from polling places, the veterans "were taken to the jail" and were met by gunfire.

"The G.I. candidates had pronounced that the votes would be counted as cast," he said. "They had no choice but to meet fire at the jail."

Neither State Senator Paul Brentell, who heads the dominant political organization in the county, nor Sheriff Pat Mansfield would be located for statements in a situation.

Duggan said that the report of two deaths inside the jail was "no true." In addition to the seriously injured, 12 others were treated for less serious hurts and dismissed.

The pitched gun battle, climaxing in a bitterly fought local political

Satisfactory

London, Aug. 2 (AP)—Minister of State Philip Noel-Baker announced in Parliament today that the British government accepted both the U. S. and Russian plans for control of atomic energy.

Noel-Baker said there appeared to be no insurmountable difference between the plans and that divergent American and Russian ideas should be fused into one.

"The British government accept both plans," he said.

and certainly should not be entrusted to do the job without proper supervision and proper protection.

Describing Trieste as U. N. R. A.'s port for deliveries for Yugoslavia, Austria, Czechoslovakia and Hungary, LaGuardia demanded:

"To be specific, I must have your authority to call upon the receiving governments to furnish armed guards—and by that I mean armed guards. We don't want observers. We need guards. * * *

"I must stand idly by with the knowledge that millions of dollars' worth of supplies are being pilfered and that all we can get is a Boy Scout arrangement."

LaGuardia said a Belgrade press correspondent last week that he did not think the Trieste thefts had political significance.

"Once we get these, plus the first-hand accounts from those in the field," said Knowland, a committee officer in World War 2, "it should be an easy matter to pin down the responsibility for their production."

Disclosure of the faulty mortar shells first came in the course of the committee's inquiry into the wartime operations of a munitions combine and the part Rep. May (D-Ky.) played in helping it obtain in contracts worth more than $8,000,000.

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—Award contracts totaling approximately $35,000,000 for 250,000 cases and cases to be used for the interim and final burial of America's World War 2 dead overseas, the War Department announced today. The caskets, of the most durable type, will be made of stainless steel, be hermetically sealed, will be lacquered or enameled in bronzed sage brown.

The political "honeymoon" between the new president and Congress ended abruptly in September, 1945, when Mr. Truman submitted a 241-point major legislative program. The rift was widened by the president's broadening the program in the months later requested.

In all, the President asked for 100 pieces of legislation. Congress approved 10 of them, rejected 15 and compromised on seven.

Dewey Approves $1,200,000 to Turn Sampson to College

Plattsburgh Barracks Also Will Be Converted
as Emergency
College

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 2 (AP)—Governor Dewey today approved allocations of $1,200,000 to convert part of the Sampson Naval Training Station into an emergency college and $400,000 for similar work at the former Plattsburgh Army Barracks.

Champlain College at Plattsburgh will open September 15 and Sampson College, near Geneva, on October 15.

Reconstruction is expected to be started "almost immediately," the governor's office said.

The emergency colleges, offering two-year courses, were created to cope with the overcrowding of permanent institutions and insufficient facilities to absorb returning servicemen.

Asa S. Knowles, president of the Associated Colleges of upper New York, a temporary corporation administering the emergency schools, said 2,000 admission applications already have been received.

He said the colleges would have an ultimate combined enrollment capacity of 10,587, including housing facilities for 2,172 married veteran students.

The Plattsburgh College will open with accommodations for 1,773 students, including facilities for 208 married registrants, he added, while Sampson eventually will handle 8,814 with two- and three-room apartments for 1,964 married veterans.

The governor's office said that Sampson will accommodate about 3,000 students at the beginning. The navy is retaining the base hospital and related units.

St. Lawrence Gets Cash
Governor Dewey also approved the additional allocation of $15,520 to St. Lawrence University for construction of 10 class rooms and $10,000 to Hamilton College for site preparations for 60 apartments for students.

These allocations from the state's $35,000,000 emergency housing appropriation boost St. Lawrence's overall total to $77,750 and Hamilton's to $40,000.

Knowles, dean of Rhode Island State College's School of Business Administration, began his duties in Albany yesterday as president of the Associated Colleges. A joint admissions office also was opened, but separate offices will be established September 1 at each school.

Freshman Courses Offered
Sampson and Champlain will offer freshman courses this fall and sophomore curricula in 1947. There will be courses in liberal arts, business administration and pre-engineering as well as studies for accepted applicants of advance standing, Knowles said.

While veterans will be granted admission preference, a limited number of non-veterans also may be accepted. The president said wives of veteran students could matriculate and that wives of non-veterans would be admitted as day students living off the bases.

Knowles said non-residents of

Three Billion Canal Spending Is Urged

Panama, Panama, Aug. 2 (AP)—In the opinion of the Board of Consulting Engineers studying enlargement of the Panama Canal, the United States should spend from $2,000,000,000 to $3,000,000,000 on "duplication and dispersion of vital works" in the Canal Zone in the interests of national security.

A statement issued by the board following its first conference here emphasized that prospective developments in guided missiles and other weapons had made it necessary to "re-evaluate" the Panama Canal problem.

New York state also would be eligible.

The Associated Colleges' board of trustees includes the president of these 10 upstate institutions: Cornell, Syracuse, Clarkson, Union, Colgate, Rochester, Hamilton, St. Lawrence, Hobart and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

General Electric Plans Three Booster Stations

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 2 (AP)—The General Electric Company plans to operate experimentally three booster stations in a Schenectady-to-New York micro-wave radio relay network as a carrier for television and F.M. programs.

Dr. W. R. G. Baker, vice president in charge of the G.E. Electronics Department here, said last night that permits for the project had been transferred to G.E. by International Business Machines Corporation and Globe Wireless, Ltd., subject to F.C.C. approval.

Relay stations will be on Beacon mountain, 50 miles from New York; Round Top mountain, 52 miles farther north, and in the Helderberg Mountains, near Schenectady.

Milk Producers Oppose Price Control Resumption

Utica, N. Y., Aug. 2 (AP)—Resumption of price control over dairy products is opposed by the Mutual Cooperative of Independent Milk Producers.

The directors of the organization, which claims to represent 10,500 milk producers, in the New York Metropolitan Milk Marketing area, yesterday directed Dr. H. F. Young, general manager, to cooperate with the Eastern Milk Producers Association in preparing evidence to be submitted at a Decontrol Board hearing in Washington August 12.

The directors declared price control was unnecessary because prices had not risen to "an unreasonable extent" since the expiration of the old O.P.A., June 30.

The Scouts are needing new equipment and hope to secure a generous supply of waste paper to help them finance its purchase.

GOOD NEIGHBORS

When it comes to the good neighbor policy, Douglas Lofdahl is not one to be hesitant. As a sailor from Minnesota on shore leave in Montevideo last winter, he took South American relations into his own hands. He went to the United States embassy, asked to borrow an interpreter, and then paid a call on the mayor. He told the Uruguayan official all about Montevideo, Minnesota, and made such a hit with his visit that he left bearing gifts. Later a bale of Uruguayan flags was sent up to Minnesota for use in parades.

The word got around in diplomatic circles, and the result of it all was that Montevideo, Uruguay, took part by short wave radio in a fiesta in Montevideo, Minnesota, last week. Mayor Roland N. Aaker, in the north, and Intendente Juan P. Farnini, in the south, had a lively correspondence in their respective languages to lay somewhat elaborate plans.

This story of international friendship promoted by one young navy man with a bright idea must make some of the United States' hard-working foreign service officials just a little wistful.

Army aircraft will have the use of three airfields in Mexico as bases for weather observation planes this year during hurricane season. The Gulf and southeastern states will be given plenty of warning when it's time to batten down for the big winds.

NEGLECTED VOTES

For a democracy where people consider that they have a pretty good kind of government on the whole, and pride themselves on having a voice in it, the United States doesn't do much voting.

According to the Gallup Poll, this country is at the bottom of the list of big democracies in percentage of eligible persons going to the polls. A little more than half of the adult citizens voted in the presidential election of 1944. Only one-third voted in the Congressional election of 1942.

Far ahead of the United States record in this respect are Australia, France, England, Canada and Italy.

People who don't exert themselves enough to vote are not likely to be taken very seriously in their objections to the way the country is run. In other parts of the world people have paid dearly for that kind of privilege.

Aluminum rowboats, for sale in department stores, are a little startling to old-time small boat men. They can't believe that they won't have to paint the boat every year to keep it from leaking.

HELICOPTER HOP

Speed of transportation is not so simple as the fastest rate of the fastest vehicle used. For the ordinary traveler it includes some nuisance transportation which eats up extra time.

A practical test was conducted recently by the United Aircraft Corporation between Sikorsky helicopter plant in Bridgeport, Conn., and United Aircraft's headquarters in Hartford. A helicopter left directly. A group of executives went by auto to the airport, and by Lockheed Lodestar to Hartford. One official drove to the railway station and took the train. Another group went all the way by auto.

The helicopter came in first, and the train rider last. Primary factor in slowing down his trip was the driving to and from the station at both ends. This also continues to be the chief drawback to short distance flying, particularly between big cities which have airports nearly an hour's drive from the downtown sections.

Perhaps the fastest travel would be achieved by airlines providing a helicopter shuttle service between airport and city.

HISTORY IS CRUEL

During my early years in China, the man I saw most often and knew best was Sun Yat-sen. It was during his years of exile when he lived in the French Concession in Shanghai and was avoided by those who sought fame and power and the good things in life that came to those who know how to stand in right with the right people at the right time. Dr. Sun was not at that moment a right person to know.

Subsequently, he made a deal with Soviet Russia and was restored to power. Most Chinese exonerated him for his deal, for the renewal of civil war, and for involving their country in further difficulties. Then on March 12, 1925, while these arrangements with the Russians were in their initial stages, Sun Yat-sen died.

It was amazing how those who had cursed him suddenly worshipped his memory. Before, if his picture was hung on the wall of a home, it was indicative of a disordered household, now, no home without a photograph in the place of honor. School children were required to bow to his memory, not once but three times every morning. His will became a national testament and his curious book of lectures, "The Three People's Principles," was ordered to be the Bible of the nation. When his memorial tomb was erected in Nanking, people came from great distances to bow to his memory. Death and political propaganda made of Sun Yat-sen a god.

I witnessed this and often wondered whether much history is not confounded by propagandistic followers who find in death political advantages which never could have existed had their hero continued to live. For instance, whereas Mme. Sun is a charming and kindly woman, her political acumen is not startling; yet, she is a voice because she is the great man's widow; similarly, Chiang Kai-shek has never dared to get rid of Sun Fo, who is a nuisance to him, because the son is a link to the dead father.

There are those who believe that the memory of Franklin D. Roosevelt is inviolate because he is dead, and they make a point that it is bad taste to criticize a dead man, particularly one of his veracity. Do we apply death as a criterion for our judgments on Napoleon, Julius Caesar, Queen Victoria, Nicholas II or Akbar? The point might well be made that while history is cruel and dissects the individual, it is too early to take an objective view of Roosevelt because he has not been dead long enough. There is justice in such a contention but none in the idea that death itself is a protection against history.

The difficulty about waiting a century or two to judge Roosevelt objectively is that his public actions are coming home to roost every day. The Yalta Agreement paved the way for a disorderly world and those who write contemporary history have to deal with Yalta every day. Roosevelt did not tell the American people the truth about Yalta and therefore every new development arising from that error produces a shock.

Contemporary historians are not better than journalists in their inability to overcome their emotional responses to their dead gods. That is why real scholars usually avoid current questions. Professor Henry Steele Commager, a professor of History at Columbia University, dislikes Bill Bullitt's book, "The Great Globe Itself." He finds that Bullitt in spite of all his closeness to the scene "learned from these experiences neither wisdom nor patience nor judgment." But did the professor gain his wisdom, patience and judgment from his inexperience? The professor admits:

"To any reasonable American present-day Russian policies seem unfortunate in inspiration and bad in effect. I am not undertaking to defend them. But I think it is important at least to seek to understand them. . . . But Bill Bullitt has been understanding the Russians for nearly 30 years. That Commager does not understand the Russians is no reflection on Bullitt—nor does anyone need to wait for the Professor to catch up."

That is the trouble with Bullitt's book. It is an attack on one of Commager's dead gods—and that is tough on any man who worships dead gods.

LACK OF PROTEINS

As students we learned of the five classes of food stuffs — proteins, (meat, eggs, fish); carbohydrates (bread, potatoes, sugar, cereals); salts or minerals (iron, phosphorus, calcium); fats (butter, cream, fat meats); water or liquids. Later came the vitamins — vitamins A, B, C, D, E, each vitamin in turn being considered the most important. Today vitamin B is leading.

All over the world there is a shortage of food and what is really the most important foodstuff has been well established by the results following World War II. The proteins are the greatest life savers known to man. Despite the value of other foods the proteins or nitrogen foods restore the starving in the shortest time. It is the amino-acids derived from proteins that the peoples of starving countries need most.

Naturally, in our own or other countries though not in a starving condition, physicians are finding many cases where lack of the proteins is causing various symptoms.

In the Medical Clinics of North America, Major Heinrich Sprinz, Halloran General Hospital, Staten Island, New York, states that a careful examination is necessary to detect the lack of proteins in the diet of these cases. This examination by physical fitness tests shows these individuals on a low protein diet to be lacking in strength and endurance. Weight is important, loss of weight is not as important as loss of strength and endurance. Anemia (thin blood) is another sign of insufficient protein in the diet.

Protein deficiency causes a variety of symptoms, or combination of symptoms. There is mental depression which may progress to confusion, lassitude, and lack of control of the bladder and bowel. There is lack of appetite and weakness.

Dr. Sprinz points out that other conditions can cause these symptoms such as the state following operations, to which can be added infections of teeth, tonsils, gums, gall bladder.

"However, nothing is as striking as to see these symptoms disappear in a few days of large amount of proteins — meats, eggs, fish, cereals — in the daily diet."

Editor, The Freeman:

An Open Letter to the City of Kingston

The controversy which has arisen out of the annual parade of the Ulster County Firemen's Association is anything but appropriate, considering the group affected. It seems strange that bids sent out to the various fire companies must have strings tied to them. "You are cordially invited to attend," but you have a little non-union musical organization. "There is something definite wrong with a city government if it cannot put down such a rebellious group and say that in view of the fact that the city is host, the children should behave themselves."

Turn the matter over to the Ulster County Firemen's Association for its decision. It would seem that it is either a case of some people being afraid to assert their authority or that others are not understanding the full measure of the liberty for which we stand and which was so recently tested in fire and blood. It may be a case of both.

It is not our wish to criticize the musicians union, but after the question has been discussed, we should like to leave the answer to public opinion as to whether or not the members of Clayton's Military Band should adopt a policy of appeasement and join the musicians union which has its local office in Kingston. Let it be remembered that in this instance, there is no competition involved; there are three fire companies in Ellenville and the band has made it a practice to lead the company that asks for services first. The union musicians of Kingston refuse to parade in the event that non-union musical organizations participate. We feel that our fire companies render a service to our community and pay for the privilege of serving. No small village can afford to have a paid fire department and volunteer companies are saddled with the responsibility of maintaining their own rooms and paying other expenses. They could not possibly pay union scale of wages to a group as large as a military band must be if it is to be effective in a street parade.

Town law prohibits the payment to any musical organization more than $500 per year for any service rendered to a village the size of Ellenville. It is easily seen that a union would break up a service which a band renders to a small community. Such service, like that given by a volunteer fire company and a band, would be prohibitive and the village would be deprived of a large part of the organization that makes it a pleasant place to live. A village band and a volunteer fire company therefore have a great deal in common.

The membership of Clayton's Military Band is composed of a democratic group of men and boys which keep the organization a going concern, not for profit, but for the pleasure of participation and comradeship derived. We know that we render a service to our community and we are proud of it. We know that our organization makes our village a better place to live. We have the vast majority of the citizens of Ellenville behind us. We have no one from our membership and we welcome all who wish to associate with us. Not one of our members is a professional musician, but we offer an opportunity to the young people of the community to learn something about music and we are proud of some of our members who have left to become professionals in other places. The basic musical education of many a professional musician has been obtained in a village band.

As for becoming members of the Kingston local of the musicians union, we fail to find where it would benefit the community or ourselves. Further, it has often occurred to the writer that a union for any profession is a violation of ethics. Not one of the other professional groups has a union. There is not a union of clergymen, we do not have a lawyers union, a physicians union, a union of nurses or any union for any of the arts and sciences which calls for any considerable amount of formal study and preparation. As previously stated, none of the membership of Clayton's Military Band considers himself a professional in any sense of the term. We have other work by which we support ourselves and our families for pleasure. We will not be forced to become members of any union, particularly when the union stands in the way of progress and freedom. More than forty of our members have been or are still in the armed forces of our country. We are proud of the record and we believe that we are entitled to do as we please about becoming members of a union. The service rendered to the country by the armed forces was accomplished without the aid of any union and we prefer to go on serving our own particular community as an organization of FREE MEN.

It is too bad that any minority group such as the local union in Kingston can mar the orderly procedure of the annual meeting and parade of the Ulster County Firemen's Association, which like Clayton's Band, renders a service to the community that would be prohibitive if it were not voluntary in a large part. It is also too bad that the officials of the City of Kingston find it necessary to turn the problem of whether non-union bands can play in the streets over to the Firemen's Association for decision for the reason that a small group wishes to dictate the kind of welcome that will be extended to visiting firemen.

Editor, The Freeman
Have lately come to Kingston to work. I found that people here were honest. Was glad to find reports verified when I lost a 10 dollar bill and the Empire Tailoring Company on Broadway found it and returned same and wouldn't even accept a reward. Its nice to live in a world with people like that.

SHEEP TO THE SLAUGHTER

Less than a year after V-J Day, the war dogs are yelping again. People are acting, not as independent citizens thinking for themselves, but as sheep. Some are to be found in the fold of willingness to go along with the British Empire into the next great slaughter. Others are in the fold of Marxism, and liberalism, falsely so-called, that really has divided into two folds of sheep: one will fight and die for Moscow. The other is ready to kick Moscow over in the hope that it can totalitarianize the United States in the course of a coming war with Russia.

All are sheep for the slaughter. They have no leaders worthy the responsibility for care of a civilized society. You would think that there never had been an independent United States of America, proud of its own record of defiance from the bloody brawls of lustful old Empires, proud of its own record of having fought a Revolution to leave the greatest of these Empires, proud of its self-reliance upon the courage, enterprise and patriotism of its citizens.

I am reminded of the dying protest of California poet Robinson Jeffers, published in 1941 by Random House. "A Poem was hardly worth the precarious freedom of one of our states. What will her ashes fetch?"

Now, thoroughly compromised, we aim at world rule; like Assyria, Rome, Britain, Germany, to inherit those hordes guilt and doom. . . . We are the people who hope to win wars with money, as we win elections. I do not yet agree with the poet Jeffers that we are lost, although I understand his pessimism. One more battle for Americanism is to be fought before I think of turning America in hopelessness back to the mish-mash of Europe. That battle is the November, 1946 elections.

Dovetailing together, as Communist-prepared plans of a program always do, are: (1) Madame Sun Yat Sen's demand that American support be withdrawn from Chiang Kai-shek and U. S. troops be withdrawn from China; (2) Red Seattle Congressman Hugh De Lacy's attack upon American policy in China in his speech at Oakland; (3) "Pravda's" renewed vituperation; and (4) the announcement of a treaty between Moscow and the Soviet Republic for the placing of Russian garrisons in Mongolia next to China. This arrangement has existed for years. Moscow would send soldiers into Mongolia any time it wished, arrangement or no arrangement, anyhow. The announcement is by way of publicly slapping Uncle Sam and notifying that if and as we withdraw from China, the Russians move in, or move close enough to China to convince the opponents of Mos-

BABSON ON BUSINESS

BABSON DISCUSSES CROPS

Gloucester, Mass., Aug. 2.—I have just been appraising the 1946 domestic crop outlook, and I am amazed at America's continued good fortune. Although by the law of averages a crop failure is now due, prospects for the country, as a whole, are brighter than on any corresponding date in the past seven years, except in 1942. Barren unfavorable weather, aggregate production may even exceed the 1942 banner year.

Changing Grain Picture

We have heard a lot about food and feed grain shortages in recent months. Now a dramatic change is under way; the wheat crop again will top a billion bushels, for the fourth time in the nation's history. This points to an early end of the flour shortage. A near-record rice crop should reach the market possibly by mid-August, but civilian supplies will depend largely upon the size of the government "take." The nation's corn crib this fall may bulge with a record crop of more than 2.3 billion bushels. Weather will be the determining factor. The oats crop also should be well up toward the 1945 maximum. Despite a below-average barley crop, total feed grain supplies should prove ample for fall and winter requirements, which needs should be smaller than a year earlier. It is quite possible that supplies of corn this fall may exceed demand, at least for a time, with resultant price weakness.

A Good Fruit Year

The outlook for fruits—an essential in every diet—is generally favorable barring freezes. Here are a few highlights. The apple crop should more than double the 1945 output, but may be well under the ten-year average. Peaches will set a new high record. Production of pears and grapes should be appreciably above normal. Large crops of citrus are indicated for the 1946-1947 season.

Prospects for canned fruits also are favorable, but higher prices will prevail due to the bidding of freezers. The apricot pack may hit record levels, though quality is more than good. A big cherry output also is in the offing. Bartlett pears may be none too plentiful. Citrus juices should prove easily ample for needs in coming months. I expect a strong early consumer demand for the 1946 pack of canned fruits. Hence, requirements may not be immediately satisfied.

The Vegetable Situation

The supply of commercial truck crops for harvest during the current season is well above the year-ago, with a prospective record tonnage indicated. Some items, such as lima beans, cabbage, sweet corn, and green peas, are likely to fall at the bottom of the chasm to the Arctic-Alpine region at the top. There will be no shortage of dynamite.

Shirts are scarce—but not the stuffed variety.

Stranger (talking to farmer)—This seems to be a healthy country. You say you are nearly 70 and can still do a full day's work. That's pretty good.

Farmer—Yes, but my old dad, who is 97, is even a harder worker than I am.

Stranger—His health must be wonderfully good.

Farmer—No, it ain't. For the last several years he can't bud quite his occasional pop count. Sometimes I kinda think farmin' don't agree with him.

A Plea For The Pets

(Letter from a reader of this column)

"I wish to beg all those who have dogs and cats and are going away to either take them along, make sure they will be well looked after, or have them humanely destroyed before leaving town."

—M.R.H.

Mother—Now, Mary, Junior says he's sorry he broke your doll, so I want you to forgive him.

Little Mary—I'd feel more like forgiving him. Mother Dear, if I could swap him one first.

What Everybody Knows

Success may sometimes turn a man's head.

And even make his eyelids flicker.

But every living person knows

A pretty girl can do it better.

—Frank Emerson

During the day Mrs. Brown discharged her old maid and hired a new one, who answered the doorbell when Mr. Brown arrived home in the evening. He carried a bunch of roses which he handed to the maid, saying:

Mrs. Brown, telling her I want to see her at once.

New Maid—All right, but you better make it snappy, because she expects the old man any minute now.

Bill took his sweetheart to see his favorite football team. The girl, a film fan, and not being very much interested in football, was soon bored by the game. As the teams came out for the second half she nudged Bill.

Girl—Come on, let's go now. This is where we came in.

Dad—Who's in the front room?

Mother—Why, Alice has company.

Half an hour later the head of the house walked by the front room door, which was slightly ajar, and glimpsed his daughter

Mr. June Wed—Well, dear, we've just had a letter from a girl in Chicago, and she's suing us for breach of promise.

Be helpful to your community.

A worth-while citizen is one who belongs to the construction gang instead of the wrecking crew.

Young Man—Your father is unreasonable.

Sweet Young Thing—How so?

Young Man—He tells me not to lose sight of my objective in life and then kicks because I call on you seven nights a week.

Parking Meters Demonstrated at Traffic Meeting

Council Committee Sees Machines Operate at Session Lasting Four Hours

Members of the Traffic Control Committee of the Common Council met last night with representatives of manufacturers of six different types of parking meters, as the investigation concerning parking meters continued.

The meeting was opened by Alderman Frank Oulton, chairman of the committee, at 7 o'clock and lasted until past 11 o'clock.

The salesmen demonstrated four types of automatic meters and two manually-operated machines. Chairman Oulton and the two other members of the committee, James J. Carroll and Edwin Sammons, said they could see little difference between the machines.

The Traffic Control committee questioned the representatives extensively on the operation and other factors concerning the machines.

According to the salesmen the parking meters are installed without cost to the city, and purchased under contract, payment being made for them from a percentage of receipts over a given term of years until the machines are paid for. Installation is done by local labor.

After taking notes and discussing the problem thoroughly with the meter representatives, members of the Council committee announced they would not make a report to the Common Council until the September meeting at the earliest.

Late Bulletins

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—The House today sustained President Truman's veto of the Tidelands bill, thus killing the legislation. Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) told his news conference that backers of the measure had asked for a vote on a motion to override the veto and said it would be taken. Earlier, the bill's sponsors had indicated they would not make a fight against the veto, because they did not believe they had the strength in the Senate to get a two-thirds majority required to override.

Five Men Injured At Terre Haute in Chemical Blast

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 2 (AP)—Five men were injured, two of them seriously, in an explosion of unknown origin early this morning in a building of the Commercial Solvents Corporation plant here. The blast shook the entire city.

Maynard Wheeler, vice president and general manager of the plant, said he could give no immediate estimate of the damage but added it would be heavy as the building was badly wrecked.

Twelve employees were in the building when the explosion occurred at 4:45 a. m., and seven escaped unhurt, Wheeler said. The two most seriously injured are William C. Unipore, foreman, and Raymond Flint. The others injured were Mark Lee, Herbert Hunt and Fred Chapman. All are residents of Terre Haute except Chapman whose home is in Brazil. All suffered burns.

Fire started after the explosion but was brought under control after two hours. The damaged building is a structure 50 by 100 feet. A tower about three stories high surmounted the one-story building. The building in which the blast occurred was used for the manufacture of an anti-freeze solution.

Truman Signs Reorganization Act

with Congress were on legal legislation and price controls, on both of which he sent to Congress vetoes that were upheld. His proposals for universal military training and for merger of the armed forces bogged down. Here are some of the more important things the Congress did during its year and a half of work.

Charter Ratified
Ratified the United Nations Charter; overwhelmingly enacted a law to vitalize this country's participation in the United Nations; provided additional funds for the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration; (since terminated) and the reciprocal trade agreements act; wrote into law the Bretton Woods international monetary agreement; approved the British loan agreement; set up the machinery for domestic control of atomic energy development.

Appropriated approximately $95,000,000,000, but later canceled about $64,000,000,000 when the law ended; extended the draft law until March 31, after prohibiting the induction of 18-year-olds; raised the national debt limit to $300,000,000,000 and then cut it back to $275,000,000,000.

Extended price controls, in a form approved reluctantly by the President, until next June 3; rewrote the Servicemen's G.I. Bill of Rights; cut income taxes by $6,000,000,000 and repealed the excess profits tax; gave the President power to reorganize the executive arm of government, but refused to approve his entire reorganization plan, compromised with the President on return of employment service offices to the states.

Pay of Members Raised
Raised the pay of its members made its members eligible for retirement; ordered drastic reductions in the number of congressional committees and otherwise "streamlined" legislative machinery.

Approved extension into Europe of the State Department's cultural relations program; set up the federal-aid school lunch program on a permanent basis; extended the life of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation; raised the pay of all federal judges; approved the transfer of surplus small ships to China for naval purposes.

While it was doing that, Congress also passed legislation to meet the Pearl Harbor attack, war contracts, surplus property disposal, un-American activities, and the food situation.

Schoeffel said both Doak's parents live in Sidney, O., and that the convict had another wife, Mahel Doak, who resides at 126 12th street, Detroit.

In New York, Constance's stepfather and mother, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Clemente expressed dismay over their daughter's plight. "She never even hinted that anything was wrong," they said. "Of course, we thought she was too young to get married, but all her letters told how happy she was so we figured that maybe everything was turning out all right."

Mrs. Clemente said that three years ago when Constance was 13 she married a soldier but the marriage was annulled. In May, 1944, she ran away from home and after she was found in Nashville, Mrs. Clemente said she agreed to place Constance in the Convent of Good Shepherd in Memphis.

Mrs. Clemente said she went to Memphis when Constance was due to leave the Convent on May 30 but on arriving learned that her daughter had vanished with Doak. At that time, she said, a friend of Doak's assured her "Don't worry, your daughter is in good hands."

Both Dr. and Mrs. Clemente told of receiving letters from the girl telling of a happy life. They said they had planned to take a larger apartment so the couple could live with them.

Wheeler Will Not Seek Re-election As an Independent
Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) told President Truman of a potential political hot spot today by deciding not to seek reelection as an independent.

Wheeler bowed out of the November picture in a formal statement in which he said nothing about supporting either his successful opponent, in the Democratic primary, Leif Erickson, or Vale N. Ecton, the Republican nominee.

Mr. Truman gave Wheeler a helping hand in the primary by way of a letter to the senator's campaign manager, Rex Wheeler, asking him to run as an independent. The President might have been faced with making a choice between his long time friend and Erickson.

Mackenzie King Proposes Foreign Ministers Meet During Paris Peace Assembly

Paris, Aug. 2 (AP)—Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada proposed before the 21-nation peace conference today that the council of Foreign Ministers of the four principal powers speed the writing of the peace by holding a meeting of their own during the conference.

King said: "I would like to see the four great powers willing to consider and consider promptly any changes in the Foreign Ministers' proposals (contained in the five draft treaties before the conference) which are seriously suggested by strong arguments. I should like to see any suggested changes considered by them before the vote is taken."

Under the present procedure any changes suggested by the conference have to be approved by the foreign ministers of Britain, Russia, France and the United States.

The Canadian prime minister's speech before the General Assembly followed a morning of wrangling in the rules committee over who should be permanent chairman of the conference. The question was left undecided.

Preceding King, the foreign minister of Czechoslovakia, Jan Masaryk, insisted upon getting rid of the German and Hungarian minorities within his country, declared the Czech people would not accept renewal of pre-war treaties for protection of minority groups.

"If the Czech government should try to force the people into it, it would very likely have to look for another job," Masaryk said.

Enjoyed Autonomy
Under pre-war treaties, Hungarian minorities in Czechoslovakia practically enjoyed autonomy. Since the end of the second World War, Czechoslovakia has insisted upon getting rid of both German and Hungarian minorities, who contributed to breakup of the country after the Munich agreement of 1938.

"Czechoslovakia, loyal to her allies, is very proud to be a Slav state, proud that its sons fought in the Ukraine and entered Prague with the victorious liberating Red Army, that its boys took part in the Battle of Britain and fought at Tobruk, that one of its brigades besieged and liberated Dunkerque and proud that it fought at the side of the victorious great armies of the great United States of America," Masaryk said.

Many of the smaller nations, led by New Zealand, lined up against a decision of the foreign ministers of the four principal powers—Britain, the United States, France, and Soviet Russia—to rotate the chairmanship among themselves, but the issue did not reach a vote.

Molotov Makes Remark
When Hector MacNeil, speaking for the British, called on the opponents of a single chairman to offer a proposal which would specifically call for the election by acclamation of President Georges Bidault of France as permanent chairman, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov pointedly remarked, "in this very room the foreign ministers made the decision to have a rotating chairmanship."

Looking over his nose-pincher glasses in the direction of the British delegation, Molotov said "I cannot understand those who voted for it in the Foreign Ministers' Council now coming here to vote against it."

"We want to get on with our work," he said, "and quit making speeches. I hope as we go along we will be able to throw aside our suspicions and prejudices and get on with our job."

The Brazilians, Australians, Dutch and Canadians were among those supporting the new Zealand move in the debate amid indications that Bidault himself did not want the post, inasmuch as he has a difficult domestic task as well as France's foreign affairs to handle.

Earlier, a Polish demand to sit on the Peace Conference Commission which will deal with the treaty for Hungary, although Poland was not formally at war with Hungary, set off a dispute between Molotov and Dr. Herbert V. Evatt of Australia.

The British appeared disconcerted when Maurice Couve de Murville of France expressed embarrassment over the division on a permanent chairman, deplored the time spent on discussion and urged withdrawal of the New Zealand proposal.

Byrnes Concur
U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes also announced he would go along with procedure already outlined by the Foreign Ministers Council for a rotating chairmanship.

Poland finally withdrew her motion for representation on the commission for Hungary, declaring the debate "had proved its point that it (Poland) was at war with Hungary and was satisfied with that."

Canadian Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King arranged to go before the peace conference today with a plea for speed through-

Jackson Reaches Washington, Has No Court Comment

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—Associate Justice Robert Jackson returned today from Nuernberg but declined to say whether he will resume his duties on the Supreme Court where he has been publicly critical of Justice Hugo Black.

Jackson told reporters who met him at the National Airport that he would comment only on the war crimes trial where he is the United States prosecutor, asked specifically about returning to the bench, Jackson said:

"I won't have anything to say except about Nuernberg."

Shortly after Fred Vinson was named chief justice to succeed the late Harlan F. Stone, Jackson issued a statement while abroad June 10 critical of Black's participation in deciding a case in which a former law partner represented one party. Black has not commented.

When he may return to Germany, Jackson said, "depends on the course of events there."

Before his departure from Nuernberg Wednesday Jackson said he would be gone only temporarily, planning to return by mid-September.

Jackson said he had no definite plans for the immediate future beside going for at least a few days to his home at suburban Langley, Va. He said he might find time to visit his former home at Jamestown, N. Y.

While turning aside a direct question of whether he proposed to return to the court, Jackson said in a brief remark for newsmen that he planned to "resume his normal work." He did not elaborate.

The justice was accompanied by his son, Naval Lieut. Robert E. Jackson and was met by his wife.

'No Union' Is Voted
Employees of the Hirsch-Weiss Manufacturing Co., 12 Pine Grove avenue, today voted "no-union" in a special election held at the municipal auditorium. Results of the ballot showed 52 for no union, 39 votes for the I.L.G.W.U. and one for the United Garment Workers Union.

Advancing Suggestion
American sources said Byrnes was advancing the same, or a similar, suggestion.

Australian delegates, meanwhile, were busy conferring with other delegations in search of enough support to force through a rule requiring only a simple majority for recommendations to the Big Four.

Most conference sources believed, however, that the rules committee would adopt a two-thirds requirement.

The issue was on today's agenda, but even if it is reached it probably will not be voted on for two or three days because of extensive debate. Each speech must be given in English, in French, in English, and in Russian.

a woman employee, Ethel Maffie, Miss Maffie and a receptionist, Madeline Arsenault were guarded in an outer office by one of the pair while the others went in to seize the money, which had been put up in 640 pay envelopes.

During the holdup, Mrs. Mary Wade, telephone operator, sent through an emergency call to the police and as the robbers drove away, Miss Arsenault checked the automobile registration number. But the robbers had disappeared before a half dozen police squad cars roared up to the firm's office, on Broadway, near Fort Point channel.

The holdup men were described as about 30 years old.

'Take Perfume' Men Are Released on Bail
New York, Aug. 2 (AP)—Robert Bennett, Goldman, 46, of Beaumont, Mass., and Theodore Marks, 48, of Brooklyn, pleaded innocent yesterday to indictments charging them with first degree grand larceny and conspiracy.

The pair, accused of making millions of dollars by selling rubbing alcohol and coloring for high priced perfumes, were released under $5,000 bond.

Police said Goldman and Marks had been sought for years after numerous reports of fake perfume deals in New York, Washington, Boston and Florida resort spots.

Reports Robbery, Gets Arrested on Intoxication Count

Thursday Sheriff Smith received a call from a town of Wawarsing resident who reported that a man at one of the boarding houses at Briggs Street, town of Wawarsing, had been beaten up and robbed by a taxi driver who brought him from Woodridge at 3 a. m. that morning. The matter was referred to the State Police at Wurtsboro and officers from that station investigated.

The troopers stated that the report of an assault and robbery was unfounded. On investigation by officers it was found that Bernard Hynes of East Orange, N. J., had been drinking quite heavily and was responsible for the report. He was placed under arrest on a public intoxication charge and a 30-day suspended jail sentence was imposed.

Braddock to Ref Bouts Aug. 8; Powerful Armas Here Saturday

Burrone-Alleyne In Star Bout on B'nai B'rith Card

Former Heavy Champ Is Guest Official for Outdoor Show Here at Stadium

When the B'nai B'rith outdoor boxing card is presented at the municipal stadium Thursday night, August 8, James J. Braddock, the "Cinderella man of the ring" will be guest referee. Dr. Saul Goldfarb, chairman of the club's boxing committee announced today.

Aside from the former world's heavyweight champion, the card will present some of the best talent in the amateur ranks, including Tony Burrone of Schenectady, and Clarence Alleyne of New York.

Burrone, coached by Chick Kanel, the handler who brought him to the ring, is a former world champion, and Alleyne is a former world champion.

Markson Gets Braddock Braddock is being brought to Kingston through the courtesy of Harry Markson, former local resident, who is on the public relations staff of the 20th Century Sporting Club presided over by Mike Jacobs, world's leading boxing promoter.

Markson's story on Braddock follows: James J. Braddock is today a substantial citizen of North Bergen, N. J., an ex-army captain, a successful man of business, a former world heavyweight champion who is respected and admired by the entire sports world.

Time without number has the story of Braddock been told, the "Rags to Riches" tale of the broken-down, forgotten pugilist who, by a sudden twist of fortune, rose from obscurity to the pinnacle of pugilistic fame.

The facts are old stuff now, but the story of Jimmy Braddock is a symbol of America, a land of opportunity, a land where a man can, through honest effort, rise from poverty to riches, from a steady diet of hash for breakfast, hash for lunch, and hash for dinner, to steaks smothered in onions.

It was his day in and day out, until there came a call, one day, to box one Corn Griffin in a preliminary to Primo Carnera, and Max Baer. Braddock hadn't boxed in a year. He was out of condition. But the $250 he was promised to serve as sacrificial lamb to the up-and-coming Griffin was too much of a temptation.

Victory a Surprise Braddock accepted with alacrity. To this day he admits he was as surprised as anyone else when he knocked out Griffin in three rounds.

rounds. The victory marked the turning point in his life. From that beginning he went on to defeat Johnny Henry Lewis and then Art Lasky and finally he found himself matched with Max Baer himself for the world heavyweight championship.

It was an opportunity Braddock could not let slip by. He trained for months as no fighter has trained before or since. Boxing men still talk of the Braddock camp at Loch Sheldrake, N. Y., where every day's sparring session turned into a ring war and caused one New York boxing writer to label the camp "Mayhem Manor."

But on the night of June 17, 1935, when Braddock climbed into the ring at the Madison Square Garden Bowl, he was a fighter fit for the greatest effort of his career. Despite overwhelming odds against him, he turned in one of the great upsets of boxing history, won the decision clearly from Baer in 15 rounds and became top man of the heavyweight kingdom.

That's how Jim Braddock became known as "The Cinderella Man," the man touched by the magic wand of Dame Fortune and transformed from a part-time dockworker, worried about how to feed his wife and three children, into a champion living on the fat of the land.

Floored Joe Louis Everything that happened to Braddock in his boxing career after that was in the nature of an anti-climax. Two years later came the loss of his crown to Joe Louis in Chicago—knocked out for the first time in his career after eight spectacular rounds during which Braddock floored the great Brown Bomber in the first round and fought valiantly but futilely toward off the inevitable defeat, which came in the eighth round.

Even after that Braddock, at the "ripe old age" of 33, turned in one more glorious battle, a fitting finish to a grand ring record, when he defeated Tommy Farr at Madison Square Garden in 10 exciting rounds—and then hung up his gloves.

Was Army Captain Never a man to be idle, Braddock entered himself in a number of enterprises following his retirement from boxing, and then, shortly after Pearl Harbor, he enlisted in the Army, serving close to "J" years as captain in the Army Transportation Corps.

He has never lost his interest in boxing, is a frequent visitor at Garden shows and at programs in other clubs throughout the country, is often called upon to give pointers to aspiring youngsters, is often asked to accept assignments as guest referee.

Jim Braddock today is one of the most beloved men in the sports world. And that's as it should be, because Braddock has always been a credit to the sport which made him famous.

Bobby Gorsline Receives Contract From Brooklyn Dodgers Today

Robert J. "Red" Gorsline, Kingston High School shortstop for three years, today proudly displayed a Brooklyn Dodger contract to fellow students attending summer school.

The 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gorsline, 75 Second avenue, got the nod from A. B. "Turk" Karam, chief scout, at the tryout school held last month in the municipal stadium.

This summer's session at the uptown ballpark was the third attended by Gorsline. "I think it pays to keep trying," he told a reporter as he waved the contract in front of him.

Going to Cambridge Gorsline is to report for training at Cambridge, Md., next spring, and probably will hook up with the farm club there. His salary, called for in the Dodger contract, called for $115 a month.

Karam was impressed with "Red's" fielding and hitting, too, when he posted his name in that little red book of likely prospects to make good Major League material.

Praises Edson Young Gorsline started his baseball career in the City Park League. "I got a good start in Hasbrouck Park," Bobby remarked. And he added, "Harry Edson is doing a grand job for the kids as far as making local baseball players go."

Gorsline feels he owes a lot to Edson for the opportunity presented to him through the city recreation superintendent's interest in helping to promote the Dodger training school at the stadium.

With the baseball background he gained in the Park League, young Gorsline made St. Mary's Grammar School team, and finally Kingston High School varsity. He played shortstop for the Maroon and White three years, 1943 through '45, under the direction of Dick Whiston and Pete Hatch as coaches.

These two are tops with Gorsline. The results of their efforts are reflected in the youth's accomplishment.

With Grunewalds At present Gorsline is playing with the Grunewald Bakers in the City League. Charlie Grunewald, sponsor of the club, is proud of "Red." When he heard about the Dodger contract, he said, "I'm proud of Bobby. He's a natural ballplayer and I'm confident he'll make good in the big time."

Stella Walsh, 35, Is 'Fit as Fiddle' For Track Tourney Cleveland, Aug. 2 (P)—Asserting she is fit as the proverbial fiddle—at the ripe competitive age of 35—for the 1946 women's national A.A.U. outdoor track meet, Stella Walsh today declared she was "rather lame" when she "squeezed through" to two championship titles last year.

"I'm in better condition now than I have been since 1938," said the perennial champion of the feminine cinder world. "And I am sure I can break the national A.A.U. 200-meter dash record at Buffalo, N. Y., Sunday."

When Stella speaks of breaking records, she usually is forced to herself. The Poland-born speedster holds 65 world and national standards and has been a national A.A.U. champion 28 times during her 20-year track career.

Tennis Play Postponed Stockholm, Aug. 2 (P)—The interzone Davis Cup tie between the United States and Sweden, scheduled tentatively for mid-August at Forest Hills in New York, has been postponed to September 15, the Swedish Lawn Tennis Association announced.

Frick Tells Umps To Warn Dodger, Cardinal Managers

His Observation Results in Instructions to Durocher, Dyer for Future

New York, Aug. 2 (P)—President Ford Frick of the National League said today he had instructed his umpires to warn both Leo Durocher, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Eddie Dyer, boss of the St. Louis Cardinals, against the use of "bean balls" by their pitchers.

In the Dodger-Card series, that ended yesterday, three Redbirds were hit with pitched balls while on frequent occasions, players from both sides were sent sprawling to the dirt while getting out of the way of close pitches.

Frick said he did not act as a result of any protest lodged by any player or manager, but that from his own observation, he decided to caution both sides.

"I attended the first two games and saw that the boys were getting dropped into the dirt with no regularity," he said. "I decided to put a stop to it. Just a precautionary measure, that's all."

"You know, there is a league rule calling for a fine of $200 for the manager as well, and an assessment and suspension for the pitcher, if in the umpire's judgment, the pitcher willfully threw at the batter."

Yesterday Durocher accused Dyer of lodging a formal complaint with Frick which Dyer promptly denied.

"Although I'm a firm believer in the use of 'dusters' and 'shavers,' I'm not complaining," said Dyer. "Brooklyn pitchers have been throwing at our hitters all season and we've been beating them with regularity. In the rest of the league nobody throws at us and we're having trouble beating them. You'd think they'd get smart and stop throwing at us."

Durocher, surprisingly enough, had no comment to make.

National Leaguers Meet in New York

Will Discuss Clubhouse Sanitation, Double Features, Expenses

New York, Aug. 2 (P)—The National League player-delegates resumed their meeting today with the 16 representatives gathering in League President Ford Frick's office to discuss such previously untouchable topics as clubhouse sanitary conditions, abolishment of doubleheaders following a night game, payment of expenses incurred by players who are sold or traded and the extension of the post-season exhibition period from 10 to 30 days.

Other topics due for a thorough going over include the previously passed pension fund plan and the proposal by the Philadelphia Phillies delegates that all major league clubs have representation at next Monday's meeting with club owners here.

Hawaii Rules Favorite in A.A.U. Senior Men's Swimming Meet Is Opened

San Diego, Calif., Aug. 2 (P)—A powerful 12-man squad from Hawaii ruled the strong favorite to capture the national A.A.U. senior men's outdoor swimming meet, opening a three-day stand today.

More than 200 swimmers are entered in postwar's first big splash, but the confusingly-named Hawaii University Swim Club, paced by record-smashing Bill Smith, appeared to pack the punch to become one of the first national champions to emerge from outside continental U. S.

Not all of the hula squad are from Hawaii University; they include former university stars who have come to roost in Honolulu. Backstroke favorite Harry Holt, day, ex-Michigan, and breaststroker Ralph Wright, erstwhile College of Pacific ace, are examples.

'Big Names' Dissolve Into Denver's Ozone

Denver, Aug. 2 (P)—Sixteen golfers from six states were still in there pitching today as the Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament moved into the third round with most of its "big names" missing after a series of sizzling upsets.

Texas and Colorado, with six entries left, dominated the field. Also represented at the beginning of a day of heavy firing were California, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Two 18-hole rounds of match play will cut the list to four by tonight, clearing the way for 36-hole battles in the semi-finals tomorrow and the finals Sunday.

Servo Stops Anest In 5th; Ross Referees

New York, Aug. 2 (P)—Welterweight Champion Marty Servo, who defends his title against Ray Robinson Sept. 6, stopped Jimmy Anest of Brooklyn last night in the fifth round of a scheduled 10-round fight for the benefit of veterans at Halloran Hospital.

The Schenectady, N. Y., champion scored his opponent twice before Referee Barney Ross stopped the fight at 1:46 of the fifth frame, giving Servo the victory by a technical knockout. Servo weighed 145½ to 140 for Anest.

Spencer Wins Trot At Rockaway and $1,500 Race Purse

Westbury, N. Y., Aug. 2 (P)—Allen Spencer, the favorite, won the $1,500 mile and a half Rockaway Trot at Roosevelt Raceway last night, winning in 3:21½, although at the end of the first mile it appeared that Cita Hanover, driven by Henry Thomas, might have the race sewed up. Apparently Thomas thought so, or he must have forgotten that there was another half mile to go, for he pulled up his horse and coasted to a jog.

By the time he realized that the race was still on, Cita had been passed by the field, and she finished in last place. Second to Allen Spencer, six-year-old gelding owned by John Beck of Elma, N. Y., and driven by Milt Van Auker, was Morris Mite, driven by Jake Mahoney. Julie Scotland, five-year-old gelding of the Compton and Schmidt barns, Waynesville, Ohio, was third.

Southampton Awaits Dry Tennis Courts

Southampton, N. Y., Aug. 2 (P)—The singles tennis tournament will be reduced to the round of four today, unless the rain which washed out yesterday's play in the quarter-finals causes another postponement.

Billy Talbot of Wilmington, Del., tangles with Ed Moylan of Trenton, N. J., and Seymour Greenberg of Chicago faces Bill Canning of La Jolla, Calif., in the upper half of the quarter-finals bracket.

The lower half sends Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Fla., against Sidney Wood of New York, and Alcio Russell of Buenos Aires against Fred Kovaleski of Detroit.

East Hampton Tennis Boggled by Rainfall

East Hampton, N. Y., Aug. 2 (P)—Quarter-finals play in the women's invitation tennis tournament at the Maidstone Club, postponed yesterday because of rain, will be resumed today, weather permitting.

In the only play completed yesterday, Betty Rosenquest of South Orange, N. J., won the two games she needed to defeat Lillian Lopus of New York 6-2, 4-6, 11-9, and enter the round of eight.

The match had been halted by darkness the previous day with the third set deadlocked at 9-all.

Kapilow, Joyce Tangle

New York, Aug. 2 (P)—Danny Kapilow, promising New York welterweight, and Willie Joyce, veteran lightweight from Gary, Ind., collide for the second time tonight in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden. The two fought 10 rounds to a draw in the same ring last March, when Kapilow entered the scrap a 2 to 1 underdog. The odds are expected to be about even tonight, with a crowd of around 10,000 in prospect.

Eddie Barratta To Pitch Against Dick Fitzgerald

Rees Figure on Second Win Over Club That They Tripped 3-2 in Earlier Game

Despite the football weather of the past few evenings, the Kingston Recreationers are confident there will be a hot time at municipal stadium Saturday night, when the powerful Armas of Long Island appear for a return engagement.

The Armas dropped a 3-2 decision to the Rees in their first appearance here and plan to send the identical lineup into action.

Eddie Barratta and Joe Linsalata, a former Recreation battery will operate for the visitors, while Manager Joe Hoffman has Dick Fitzgerald primed for the locals.

Fitzgerald checked the Armas with a six hit performance early in July.

Kingston will be at full strength for with Billy Ostrom taking over in right field. Manager Hoffman is said to be shopping around for another player to play in right field when Billy Ostrom pitches, since Jimmy Aschdown cannot always make the trip from Buffalo.

Pitcher Barratta and catcher Linsalata are not the only Armas standouts. Second baseman Joe Capri is one of the best to show here this season. After a brilliant performance with Armas, he returned in the lineup of the Madison Colonels and was equally effective.

Rosenberg, stocky first sacker of Armas is a heavy hitter, who failed to get started against Fitzgerald the last time out but he is as tough as they come in the semipro ranks.

The Rees were at top strength for the New York Firemen and rated off that performance don't figure to lose many more games to semi-pro squads for the remainder of the season.

The Albany Senators, New York Police, Oneonta Indians and Montreal Royals still figure prominently in future Recreation plans. The 2-2 tie with Albany was one of the best games of the year and efforts are being made to have "Rip" Collins and his crew return to the city.

Montreal Royals, of course, would be an attraction second only to the Boston Braves. The Royals are without a doubt the best ball club outside the majors and in Jackie Robinson, second baseman, have a player who could end a Brooklyn Dodger's career and do okay for himself right now.

Zarhardt Wins Woodstock Open Play Wednesday

Goes Around Links in 6 Under Par to Take $200 Prize From 70 Pros

Joseph Zarhardt, a Norristown, Pa. professional scorched the Woodstock Country Club course with a 6-under-par 134 to capture first prize of $200 in the annual Woodstock Open yesterday. Zarhardt paced a field of 70 pros and amateurs in the first post-war tourney sponsored by the artist village club. A three-way tie for second place at 139 strokes existed among Ben Toski, of Dalton, Mass.; Frank Saval, Ballston Spa; and Armand Farina, of Schenectady. Frank Ball, assistant pro at Twaalfskill, led the Kingston contingent with a score of 141, one over par. Zarhardt blistered the course with a record-tying 34 on the first nine and came in with a 39 for an 18 hole score of 63, also tying the course record. He fired two eagles on the par-3 hole. Frank Demarest, of the Stamford, N. Y. Country Club, won first place in the amateur competition with 145. The prize was $50. The Bering Sea seal herd is estimated at 100,000,000 in value.

Pasquel Says Dickering Is Proof U.S. Baseball Antiquated

Better Golf By SAM SNEAD

5. If you violate any of the fundamentals of a good golf swing, you must compensate somewhere during the swing to correct the fault. It's as simple as saying that one-and-one-make-two to understand that a golf fault corrected by some compensating action means that there are two flaws in your swing. And, therefore, you set up two chances for error in making the stroke yield the distance and accuracy which should be yours. The player who sways his head and therefore his arms back, must sway his head and body backward when he swings forward and down. This gives a loose-moving top anchor to the axis of his swing. You've seen an automobile wheel shimmy or wobble and that's what happens to a golfer who moves his head. Now that you've seen pictured the error of head and body swing shown by the dotted line, fix your eye on the solid outline figure and mentally copy that swing action.

Ceci's Artillery Wins Pennant in West Point League

Victory Over M.P. Nine Fortifies Soldiers for Sunday Game Here

Behind the pitching of Bruce Bailey, who struck out 16 batters, the West Point Field Artillery team defeated the Military Police, Thursday evening, for the championship of the Service League on the Hudson river military post.

Commenting on the victory, Manager Frank Ceci of the Artillery, remarked, "This win fortifies us for that game with the Kingston All Stars, Sunday night." Sergeant Ceci will bring his artillerymen, and a collection of other diamond stars, to the municipal stadium, Sunday for a tilt with the city's ex-servicemen playing for the benefit of the Ulster Detachment of the Marine Corps League. Game time is 9 o'clock.

Clinton Market Team Scores 4-2 Win Over Capitals

Governor Clinton Market evened its season's record at three wins and three losses in the City League yesterday, scoring twice in the sixth inning to defeat Old Capital Motors, 4-2. The loss was the third straight for the Capitals.

Bob Becker held the losers to four hits, while the Clintons made only one more off Joe Thompson. The winning markers were scored by Governor Clinton in the sixth on singles by Tiano and Benjamin an infield out and an error by Zelle.

Mexico, He Says, Gives Balance to Teams; Uses Athletics as Example

New York, Aug. 2 (AP)—Bernardo Pasquel of the fabulous Mexican Pasquel brothers believes a current owner-player negotiations prove his theory that baseball in the United States is "100 years behind the times."

Declining to take any credit for the new deal that baseball is offering the players in the form of contract reforms, the must-tachioed vice-president of the Mexican League recalled he had pointed to the sport's "antiquated" methods six months ago.

"Why is it that Philadelphia always finishes last?" he demanded. "The pennants always go to New York, Boston, St. Louis, Chicago or Brooklyn. We do things different and move the players around to make, what you call, balance."

Bernardo had just seen the St. Louis Cards and Brooklyn Dodgers fighting for the National League pennant. He wasn't impressed.

"Our league leader, Tampico, can play any team you have here," he insisted, "and they don't have one big leaguer in their lineup. How can you call your series a real World Series? Why the Mexican fans will just laugh at you. United States champs, yes. World champs, no. Not unless you play Mexico."

"Was there any chance of a peace settlement with organized baseball?" Bernardo was asked.

Like Light of Day

"Not until Mr. Chandler, Griffith and Rickey make satisfaction. They speak badly of the Mexican League, say we are not correct. We are like the light of day."

"They need peace. What do we care, we have all the players we need and there are plenty more anxious to come. There will be no peace until we get satisfaction from Chandler, Griffith and Rickey."

"The only way that will be done is for Mr. Chandler to go to Mexico himself."

Thinks of 1947

Although Pasquel is in town en route to Europe on a pleasure jaunt, he was thinking of 1947 in Mexico baseball.

"The Mexican fan wants the big names, the biggest you have," Bernardo explained. "There are only four or five big names that we would want. Young fellows with big names, Marce Newhouse, Feller, Pesky and Ted Williams. Greenberg? No, we want younger men."

"Williams can come any time. He told me in Havana last spring that he would talk to us before he signed for next year. We expect him to come down to Mexico on a visit after the season. After all, there can be no harm in his coming to Mexico for a visit, no? As I told him in Havana we would just say to him, 'Write down what you want and we will give it to you.'"

Heirens' Attorneys Arrange Conference

Chicago, Aug. 2 (AP)—Attorneys for William Heirens arranged a conference with State's Attorney William J. Tuohy today and there were reports that the 17-year-old youth had again decided to make a formal statement in connection with the kidnap-killing of Suzanne Degnan and of two other slayings.

Tuohy said that Heirens, who on Tuesday refused to answer questions after his lawyers had announced he was ready to give the state's attorney details of the three slayings, will not be present at today's meeting.

Tuohy said the conference was requested by Malachi Coghlan, one of Heirens' attorneys, with whom he held a two-hour meeting yesterday. Earlier Coghlan and other defense lawyers had visited the young University of Chicago student in the Cook county jail.

B-29 Sets New East-West Mark

Superfortress Arrives at Burbank in Seven Hours, 28 Minutes

Burbank, Calif., Aug. 2 (AP)—An Army B-29 Superfortress roared across the continent in 7 hours and 28 minutes yesterday, setting a new east to west speed record between New York and Burbank.

Piloted by Capt. Boyd L. Grubbaugh of Van Wert, Ohio, veteran of the first Superfort bombing of Japan, the plane broke the previous record of 9 hours and 23 minutes, established last May 28 by a Lockheed navy Neptune.

The B-29, carrying a crew of six and 8,500 gallons of gasoline, flew at about 30,000 feet over the 2,460-mile route.

Although it was a record for a conventional type plane, fast pursuits have crossed the nation in better time. A jet propelled P-80 flew from Long Beach, Calif., to New York in 4 hours, 13 minutes, 23 seconds last January 26.

G.I. Amputees May Get Special Cars If Measure Passes

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—G.I.s who lost their legs in the war—some 200,000 of them—will get specially fitted automobiles as a gift from Uncle Sam, under a bill up for a final vote in congress today.

The measure appropriates $30,000,000 to purchase the cars.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the House Appropriations Committee said the House is certain to accept the provision inserted in a general appropriation bill by the senate.

The cars, the kind to be determined by the Veterans Administration, would have special operating devices similar to those used by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

They would be given to ex-servicemen determined by the Veterans Administration to be entitled to disability compensation or pensions, and unable, because of the loss, or loss of use, of one or both lower limbs, "to use normal means of locomotion or ambulation."

Allied Staff Says Trials May End By August 15

Nuernberg, Germany, Aug. 2 (AP)—A member of the Allied prosecution staff said today the war crimes trials against 22 ranking Germans might end by August 15 and that a verdict was possible on September 2.

The case against the individuals, including Hermann Goering, Joachim von Ribbentrop, Rudolf Hess and Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, has been completed. The international military tribunal now is hearing prosecution summaries against seven Nazi organizations.

Kiwanis Speaker Says Russia Takes Expedient Views

Edward A. Dolph Declares Soviet Has No Idea of Dropping Spread of Communism

Russia has never seriously abandoned its plan for spreading the doctrine of Communism throughout the world and will break its words, its treaty obligations and stop at nothing to achieve its material ambitions, Edward A. Dolph, of Newburgh, past district governor of Kiwanis, told local Kiwanians yesterday in a hard hitting speech at the Governor Clinton.

Mr. Dolph was guest speaker for the Kiwanis day honoring members of the Kingston club who are returned servicemen. He was introduced by Ed Hulien as a West Point graduate and instructor and a Kiwanian with a brilliant record in two wars, having served in the Army of Occupation in the first war, and in Corregidor and Batavia in World War 2.

The dinner honored the following Kiwanis war veterans: George Johnson, Arthur W. Clayton, Dr. John Constock, Van Darrow, N. Jansen, Fowler, Dr. Robert F. Flanagan, Daniel Bittner, Albert Flanagan and Robert Herzog.

Special guests included Ernest F. Steuding, commander of Kingston Post American Legion; John Mayone, commandant of the Marine Corps League; Thomas Bohan, commander of the Ulster County Legion and Howard Pangborn, commander of Joyce-Schirch Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Allied military might crushed fascism to win the military phase of World War 2, Dolph said, but the peace still hangs precariously in the balance.

"The greatest threat to a successful completion of the peace is communism," the guest speaker said in his spirited attack on the principles of communism.

Russia will break its word and its treaties whenever it is convenient for her, Dolph said in warning the returned veterans that they must assume the serious obligation of preserving the ideals for which they fought. He urged the veterans to assume an active part in the affairs of the community to prevent the infiltration of Communism and doctrines inimical to American enterprise and principles.

Urges Realistic Thought

"There are thousands of people in America today, who, willingly and unwittingly, are furthering the cause of Communism and these are the people who must be watched and shown the light," he continued. "Russia has never abandoned its dream of world-wide Communism and never will. It is a fact that we must face with realism."

World War 2 proved that the white man made the savages of darkest Africa and the American Indian look like a piker when it came to devising ways of torturing and destroying human beings, he said.

Mr. Dolph spoke briefly but pointedly on the subject of the returned veteran and expressed the hope that America would not again show the traditional ingratitude of democracies.

"We must not be absorbed in our sole interests and we have an obligation to assist the veteran in his problem of readjustment," he said. "We cannot bungle this obligation because it can sow the seeds of distrust, cynicism and degeneration among the vets. If we do not meet this obligation, we will qualify as rank incrates."

Real Solution

Providing suitable jobs—work that springs from the American system of free enterprise—is the real solution to the grave problem of the returned serviceman, Dolph stated.

Re-adjustment is much easier for the veteran when he can return to a job," the guest speaker said, "but these jobs must be furnished by free enterprise and not by government subsidization. By any other method we will veer toward two dangerous extremes—too much unemployment, or too much government-dominated jobs. We could easily bungle the peace by failing to solve the problem of job adjustment for the veterans."

Touching on work for the handicapped worker and education for the ex-G.I.s, Dolph stated that great strides have been made in the former field and thousands of

have been made over into economically independent men.

"Great promises were held forth for the education of servicemen under the G.I. Bill of Rights," but we all know that lack of space in the nation's colleges and universities is seriously hampering the movement."

Mr. Dolph pointed out that early last year he had suggested at the New York state convention of Kiwanis that all abandoned army posts be made over into temporary colleges and universities to help relieve the situation. He was happy to note that his suggestion had been accepted by the War Department and such institutions already have been set up at Sampson Naval Station, Plattsburgh and Camp Shanks.

Overlapping in the administration of veterans' agencies and politics must be removed from the veterans' relief picture, Dolph warned. He charged that the nation has a miserable record in that respect, pointing out that only 1,500 of the nation's 23,000 communities have set up centers to assist the returning servicemen.

"The community must bring the human touch to the men coming back and politics and the practice of making political footballs of veterans agency appointments and administration must be abolished," the ex-district governor warned.

Seeks No Privileges

"The returned servicemen seeks no special privileges and wants only to return to his place in the community," he said. "But he is entitled to consideration and proof that America is grateful for what he has done. Without this demonstration of gratitude and the human touch we are seriously impairing the chances of veterans readjusting themselves properly."

World War 2 proved that there is only one path to real peace and happiness—the time tested highway of democracy. This is as true today as it was 200 years ago and the results of World War 2 proved that Fascism can lead only to the degradation of the human soul and corruption of a nation's principles.

The future of America lies in the hands of the veterans, Mr. Dolph said, but it will be an unhappy America if we do not solve the problem of readjustment and provide jobs and opportunities for the ex-G.I.s. Fascism and Communism first exploit then oppress the laboring class. An America with millions of disillusioned, bitter and cynical veterans could be a happy hunting grounds for the campaign, started around 9 p. m. Thursday, Election Day. The outbreak occurred after two young veterans backing an all G.I. slate for county offices broke out of a polling place through a glass window to report what they contended were improper practices in the vote tabulation.

The veterans were James Ed Vestal and Charles Scott, who were in the polling place serving as a clerk and a watcher. They said they had been ordered to sit at the front of the counting room and had been denied the right promised them to witness the count.

A deputy sheriff leveled a pistol at Managing Editor James E. Jarvis of the Chattanooga Times, a spectator, said. The former soldiers walked into the crowd with their hands held up and a roar came up from the onlookers.

"Let's go get 'em," shouted members of the crowd.

The crowd increased in numbers and shooting started after armed sheriff's deputies carried two of the town's three ballot boxes into the jail.

Mildred Benson to Be Married Tomorrow In First Dutch Church

The wedding of Miss Mildred Benson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Benson of Albany avenue extension to A. Melbourne, Gunter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Gunn of Miami, Fla., will take place Saturday at 5 p. m. in the First Dutch Reformed Church. Originally the marriage would have been performed in the Fair Street Reformed Church but because of construction work being done in the church proper, the wedding will be in the First Dutch Church.

Good Taste Today
By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

ON SECOND THOUGHT TAKING IT WAS BEST

A letter which I am really at a loss to answer is the following: "Recently my husband's three cousins came to visit us. They invited us. They invited me to dinner with them one evening while my husband was away on a business trip. Everyone ordered steaks and it was not only the first steak I had seen in months but it was about the most delicious steak imaginable. My piece was so generously big I was able to eat only about half of it. The three cousins suggested that I bring it home wrapped in fresh tissue napkins in my handbag, which I did! It seemed a crime to leave it and I certainly did enjoy a delicious sandwich made from it the next day!"

"However, when I wrote my husband about the evening I mentioned the meat episode. Now, I've received a letter from him in which he expressed embarrassment and stern disapproval. He does not think that you would approve even in these times. Will you tell me what you would have done under the circumstances?"

I probably would have eaten much more steak than I really wanted. To take an item such as meat home has been unthinkable hitherto and yet in the present very serious situation, I am not at all certain of my answer. I cannot say, "Yes, this is what one should do," and, on the other hand, I cannot disapprove of any saving!

Present Is Perhaps A Business Obligation
Dear Mrs. Post: What is our responsibility in this situation? We have received an invitation to the wedding and reception of the daughter of a business associate. I do not know this woman well and there are no business reasons which might make a gift seem imperative. Would your answer be the same whether or not we go?

Answer: In this particular case, it is probable that your association with the bride's father will prompt your sending a present, whether you go to the wedding or not.

Bronze Bust
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it good taste for a man to have his own bronze bust displayed in his garden?
Answer: Certainly, except perhaps that in time the weather will mar the surface of the bronze.

Many Documents Being Recorded By County Clerk

If your deed or mortgage is not promptly returned to you after leaving it with County Clerk Robert A. Snyder for recording, the answer may be found in the figures which have recently been made public on the large number of instruments being recorded at the local office.

For the month of June there were 716 deeds recorded in Ulster county and 341 mortgages, a total of 1,057 instruments and these papers were only a portion of the instruments which go through the office. While the staff has been temporarily increased to cope with this increase in business, the increase in typists has not been able to keep pace with the increase in work. As a result the office is now several months behind in copying deeds and mortgages but once an instrument is filed at the office it immediately becomes an instrument of record and the original is returned as soon as it is copied into the record books.

Ulster county has an unusually large number of real estate transfers passing through the office of the county clerk each month. While the population of Ulster county is 87,017 there were recorded a total of 1,157 deeds and mortgages in June while the county of Albany with its 221,315 population in the same period recorded only 735 deeds and 375 mortgages, a total of 1,110 instruments.

British Accept Two Plans for Control

both plans," he said during a debate in the House of Commons on atomic energy. "They believe that they need to be fused" and that a "practicable scheme" could be developed.

(The American plan, presented by Bernard M. Baruch to the United Nations Security Council, proposed that all nations waive the veto right on atomic matters and allow U. N. inspections with-in nations on atomic matters. The Russians rejected both ideas, insisting that advances in atomic energy—developed in the United States at an initial cost of $2,000,000,000 with the help of some British scientists and Canadian raw materials—be vested exclusively in the U. N.)

Noel-Baker said the Russian plan to outlaw the manufacture and use of atomic energy for war-like purposes did not appear to conflict with the American plan. He said the American plan for an international authority to own and control the world's atomic raw materials was "a tremendous revolutionary proposal" and "there has been nothing like it in international affairs before."

"Let us not by the slightest infection of our voice detract from the importance of the decisions which the U. S. government came to when this plan was forward," Noel-Baker said.

The minister said the British proposed that the nations "start with the technical side and that they should first aim at drawing up a practicable plan in the form of a convention for the creation of an international authority."

Meat Prices Probably Won't Revert to June Levels Soon

Chicago, Aug. 2 (AP)—New price records on meat animals blossomed all over the nation this week, and market observers said there was little likelihood of values getting back to June levels soon.

The reason, say farm economists, lies in a larger human population bidding on declining numbers of cattle and hogs.

The beef animal population, while it continues near the highest in history, is less than holding its own this year, and hogs on farms have dropped sharply from the record totals of 1944.

Added to the increased national demand by an estimated 141,000,000 persons is a strong export pull for relief purposes in war ravaged countries and for normal purchases by nations able to pay.

Beef cattle available in 1946 are estimated by the Department of Agriculture at about 53,000,000 or 3.8 beeves for each 10 persons. The hog population is estimated at 62,300,000 or 4.4 porkers to every 10 persons.

These totals compared with about 54,000,000 beef cattle last year and 83,000,000 hogs in 1944, the highest marks on record.

When this year's future prospects are considered, meat industry men take an even gloomier price view. Increasing numbers of both cattle and hogs have been reaching market in quest of present high prices but months before they would normally be ready.

Several factors account for the push, in addition to quick profits. These include high prices on feed corn, drying pastures in the far west, and anticipation of price recouls after August 20.

Cattle in feedlots have reached a record low point as farmers have sent every possible animal to market and stockers and feeders moving into corn belt feedlots are fewer than a year ago. Live stock men say it takes from four to 12 months to produce beef in the feedlot, and any advance movement of these animals to market will mean curtailed supplies in the future.

Many Promotions Won at Boy Scout Camp Now Closed
Was Unusually Successful Season Recommend 10 Scouts for Order of Arrow

Sunday afternoon marked the close of an unusually successful season at the new Boy Scout Camp at East Jewett. While the camp is now closed for long-term camping, it will be used throughout the year by individual troops, by reservation with the council office. There were 39 Scouts in camp last week and most of them would have remained for additional time had the camp stayed open longer.

Colored movies were taken at the camp during the season and were shown to the campers on Thursday evening. These films will be available for showing throughout the council territory upon request to the Scout headquarters, Kingston. On Thursday the camp was inspected for the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America by Stanley Merrell, deputy regional executive and he commented that the camp had the best program and the best sanitary facilities of any he had inspected during the summer. He gave high praise to the council camp committee for the tremendous job they had undertaken in getting the camp ready for use.

The camp committee met at the review of the report of Mr. Merrell and to witness the weekly aquatic show put on by the campers.

At the closing council camp fire Saturday evening a great many advancements were presented as follows: Camp Honor Awards: Adam Fiore, Troop 2, Kingston; Frank Perry, Troop 2, Kingston; Alfred Haffel, Troop 70, Highland; Ronald Barber, Troop 46, Cossackie; Roger Townsend, Troop 46, Cossackie; Walter Hansen, Troop 26, Port Ewen; Cameron Page, Troop 2, Kingston; Joseph Leverenz, Troop 2, Kingston; Carlo Perry, Troop 2, Kingston; Chris Rienzo, Troop 6, Kingston; Chase Page, Troop 8, Kingston; Robert Woodman, Troop 11, Kingston; Peter Dwyer, Troop 3, Kingston; John Amrod, Troop 36, Saugerties; Glen Brown, Troop 22, Kerhonkson; Robert Engle, Troop 14, Kingston; Herbert Bell, district chairman, Southern District; Burr Tuttle, member of Troop 2 Committee; William Seyler, Troop 46, Cossackie; Pat Manfro, Troop 8, Kingston.

Ten Scouts were recommended for membership in the national scout camping fraternity, the "Order of the Arrow." This membership is contingent upon outstanding participation in the long-term camp as well as a thorough knowledge of good Scout camping practices and especially living up to

Negro Is Charged With Murder of Marjorie Logan

nell as Ward Beecher Caraway, employed by Joseph M. Rose, whose home is near the Logan's in the Long Island community of Flower Hill.

Caraway first was under suspicion Wednesday night, Pinnell said, and was arrested last night by Detective Michael O'Brien. Today he was taken to Nassau county hospital, where Miss Logan is a patient, and she identified him immediately, Pinnell added.

Police said Caraway was taken into custody at the summer home of the Rose family at Southold in Suffolk county on the eastern end of Long Island.

He was also identified, police said, by Theodore Klicik, a painter, who saw the man from his automobile as he rushed Miss Logan to a hospital.

John Logan, baking soda firm executive and husband of the slain woman, also viewed Caraway today, police added.

The Rose home in Flower Hill is about one and a half miles from the Logan residence in the fashionable North Shore section of Long Island.

The 52-year-old Mr. Logan was shot to death by an intruder who apparently had demanded money. Miss Logan told police her mother had called to her to throw a $10 bill down a stairway to her so she might "pay a debt."

Almost immediately there was a gunshot and a negro ran up the steps to confront the girl, who was on the second floor of her home. The man took from her a roll of bills which she had in her hand, Miss Logan said, and the attack followed.

The young woman ran screaming from the house in her underclothes after the attack. A painter working on a nearby home rushed her to the hospital.

En route they passed her attacker, who was walking along the roadside, but they did not stop. An intensive police search followed.

Communists Expected To Give More Trouble
Peiping, Aug. 2 (AP)—Two Chinese government officials said today that the United States could expect further anti-American outbursts by Chinese Communists similar to the ambushing Monday of a U. S. Marine convoy and the kidnapping earlier of seven Marines, later released.

Lt. Gen. Tsai Wen-Teh, former government commissioner at executive (true) headquarters, asserted that by launching an anti-American campaign the Communists hoped the Marines would withdraw from China "out of weariness."

The Marine Corps has announced that three Marines were killed and 12 wounded in the ambush of the convoy 35 miles south-east of Peiping. The Communists have admitted involvement, but say the Marines and government troops "made a surprise attack."

scouting principles. Those who were recommended Saturday evening were: Alfred Haffel, Troop 70, Highland; Jack Amrod, Troop 36, Saugerties; James West, Jr., and Gilbert Benjamin, Troop 55, East Jewett; Glenford Gentner, Troop 38, Saugerties; Robert Tremper, Troop 11, Kingston; Percy Korth, Troop 6, Kingston; Carlton Taylor, Troop 26, Port Ewen; Donald Krempner, Air Squadron No. 3, Kingston; and George Blakecock, Troop 44, Catskill. The new chapter of the Order of the Arrow will be installed in the Ulster-Greene Council this fall. The installation ceremonies will be in the hands of the Order of the Arrow Chapter of Fort Orange Council.

Embassy Accepts Hutton Mansion

London, Aug. 2 (AP)—The U. S. Embassy has accepted the gift of Barbara Hutton's Georgian Mansion in Regent's Park as the residence for the American ambassador in London. The three-story mansion, situated in 14 acres of ground, is the highest residential estate in London, except for Buckingham Palace.

The mansion was built by the Woolworth heiress in 1936 at a cost of $600,000 and $2,000,000 was spent in furnishing it. It was called Winfield House, as a memorial to Barbara Hutton's grandfather, Frank Winfield Woolworth, who founded the Five-and-Ten Cent Store Empire.

Winfield House has three guest suites, a gymnasium and an indoor swimming pool. Its bathrooms have gold faucets. There are a tennis court and several acres of gardens on the grounds.

The ambassador's present residence, donated to the U. S. by the late J. Pierpont Morgan, is at Prince's Gate, a short distance from Kensington Palace, birthplace of Queen Victoria.

Pickett Thinks Navy Sanction Is Illegal
Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—Deets Pickett, research secretary for the Board of Temperance of the Methodist Church, expressed a "layman's opinion" today that the navy's new sanction of grog for gobs aboard is illegal.

The navy disclosed yesterday that it had lifted its ban against the sale of intoxicating liquor to enlisted men and civilians at navy bases anywhere outside the United States.

Pickett told a reporter there was "one good feature" in the order of July 13—a provision that a soda fountain dispensing soft drinks and ice cream must also be set up wherever liquor is sold.

But, he said, it was his "layman's opinion" that a law of 1903 prohibiting the sale of intoxicants at any United States military base was still operative and extended to American establishments anywhere in the world. Pickett said he had no intention of pursuing the matter beyond his informal comment.

Sale of hard liquor and beer continues to be forbidden aboard any navy vessel. Nothing stronger than beer may be sold to enlisted men at home navy bases and stations.

Police Searching For Man Last Seen With Ruth McGurk

Onset, Mass., Aug. 2 (AP)—A search throughout the east began today for the slayer of Ruth McGurk, 25, in the belief he had fled New England with a companion in a green sedan reported missing from Newport, R. I.

District Attorney Edmund R. Dewing said he had received information that the men, probably wearing army uniforms, were headed west.

The girl was slain after leaving a dance hall in this summer resort village Saturday night with a man she had introduced to girl companions as "Frank."

Her ravished body was found yesterday floating in a cranberry bog.

Wareham police and Dewing said a Newport, R. I., woman whom they did not identify further had told them her son, absent without leave from Camp Kilmer, N. J., came home Friday with a man he called "Frank."

Tallies Closely
Her description of him, the prosecutor added, tallied closely with that of the man who danced with Ruth.

The Newport woman had not seen her son or "Frank" since the day before Ruth was slain, Dewing said.

The Wareham police today sent out this description of "Frank": About 22 years old, 5 feet, 3 or 4 inches tall, medium complexion, brown hair brushed straight back.

On Saturday night when he danced with Ruth, only hours before she was strangled, he wore a tan herringbone sport jacket outside his coat, and no tie.

"Frank" has been described as a good dancer and a glib talker. Pretty, red-haired Ruth came here Saturday for a two weeks vacation with two girl friends, Ruth Jefferson and Helen L. Leary, who saw her that night dancing with a man known to them only as "Frank."

Ruth left the dance hall "for a few minutes," they said, and they did not see her again until her body was pulled from the reservoir in an isolated section eight miles from the resort village.

Medical Examiner A. Vincent Smith told District Attorney Edmund R. Dewing, who assumed personal charge of the investigation, that the girl was raped and "manually strangled."

Dr. Smith promised a more complete report after further scientific tests are made by the State Pathologist, Dr. Alan R. Moritz.

Meanwhile, the girl's body was sent back to her home city for funeral services.

Intact on the dead girl's hand were her diamond engagement ring and an amethyst birthstone, as well as an expensive wrist watch.

The diamond ring signified her engagement to a "Frank" Arthur L. Doucette, 31, now in the Pacific with the atom bomb fleet at Bikini.

Ogimoto Accused

Tokyo, Aug. 2 (AP)—Yoshio Ogimoto, former civilian guard in the Hiroshima prisoner of war camp, was accused today of brutalities against American, British, Australian and New Zealand prisoners Allied headquarters' legal section preferred the charges, listing two of the victims as Maj. Clarence F. Maynard, 10 Perkins street, Norwalk Conn., and Lt. Edward A. Erickson, Mankato, Minn. Capt. Mandeville Mullally Jr., of Hewlett, N. Y., is a prosecutor.

FIND MISSING GIRL'S BODY

Police remove the body of Ruth McGurk, 25, from the lonely cranberry bog reservoir at Onset, Mass., ten miles from the dance hall where she vanished July 27. State Police Lieut. John Sullivan, directing the search for the girl, said "there was definitely foul play." (AP Wirephoto)

Food Handlers School to Be Held In Poughkeepsie

About 150 employees of the drug stores throughout the mid-Hudson valley are expected to attend the food handlers school sponsored by the Dutchess County Pharmaceutical Association scheduled for August 14, 9 p. m., at the Moose Temple, 339 Mill street, Poughkeepsie, according to Dr. George James, who is acting as district state health officer in the temporary absence of Dr. Bertrand E. Roberts.

The chairman of the county association, Herman Caplan, of Poughkeepsie, has invited representatives from Poughkeepsie, Millbrook, Beacon, Pawling, Milton, Highland, New Paltz, Kingston, Newburgh and surrounding areas to attend. The two hour program will be under the joint direction of the Poughkeepsie and New York State Health Departments.

Dr. John H. Darrow, director of Sanitation, Poughkeepsie City Board of Health, will preside at the meeting. Dr. William H. Conger, Poughkeepsie city health officer, will discuss the role of a city health department in securing safe food handling. Diseases spread through improper food handling with examples of food-borne disease outbreaks will be presented by Dr. James. Technical aspects of proper food handling will be outlined by Nicholas A. Milone, Poughkeepsie, and Michael J. McCormack, Albany, both workers in the division of milk and restaurant control. State Department of Health Mr. Milone will discuss detergents and disinfectants, give demonstrations of clean and dirty equipment and the laboratory methods of checking such equipment for cleanliness. Mr. McCormack will present interesting observations on restaurant sanitation based on his 30 years' experience in this field. Representative sound films on techniques of food handling will be included as an interesting feature of the program. Time will be left for questions from members of the audience.
